MEASURES NOT REFERRED TO SUBCOMMITTEES

In addition to legislation reported by the subcommittees to the full Committee, the full Committee, itself, retained jurisdiction over a number of bills during the 97th Congress. These bills were primarily in the areas of antitrust law; criminal law; patent, trademark and copyright law, as well as Department of Justice oversight and authorization.

Notable among those measures processed at the full Committee level were:

S. 195—Granting a Federal Charter to the United States Submarine Veterans of World War II.

H.R. 4476—To amend the Administrative Conference Act by authorizing appropriations therefor.

H.R. 6260—Authorizing appropriations for the Patent and Trademark Office.

The full Committee also held numerous oversight hearings on various topics. One series of hearings explored the social and economic implications of merger activity among large companies. The Committee questioned officials of the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission with respect to their policy and guidelines for reviewing mergers. Other oversight hearings included an examination of competition in the telecommunications field and a review of the impact that settlement of the Justice Department's antitrust lawsuit against AT&T might have on local telephone rates. The Committee also held hearings to explore the concerns raised by cities as a result of the Supreme Court's recent holding that local governments could be subject to liability in antitrust actions based on their municipal activities. As a result of these hearings, it seems likely that some legislative resolution will be attempted during the upcoming Congress.

In response to the rapidly rising crime rate and the President's call for legislative initiatives addressing that problem, Chairman Thurmond and other Committee members facilitated expeditious Senate passage of four anti-crime measures. Chairman Thurmond's bill, S. 2572, The Violent Crime and Drug Enforcement Improvements Act of 1982, was passed by a vote of 95 to 1. The major provisions of S. 2572 were: (1) amendments to the Bail Reform Act of 1966 to authorize judges to consider "danger to the community" in imposing release conditions and to order pretrial detention under certain circumstances; (2) reform of Federal sentencing procedures to implement a determinate sentencing system and to eliminate disparity in sentencing by establishing a sentencing commission to provide Federal judges with guidelines and policy statements for the imposition of sentences; (3) amendments to the criminal forfeiture provisions of the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations (RICO) Act and the Controlled Substances Act to facilitate forfeiture of drug-related arrests upon conviction; and (4) increases in the penalties for major drug offenses.

S. 2572 was attached as an amendment to H.R. 3963, a bill to extend the authorization of appropriations for a Federal program supervising drug dependent offenders. Because of the unwillingness of certain House Members to consider various provisions of S. 2572, on which the House had not separately acted, H.R. 3963 was passed by the House and the Senate with the following provisions upon which agreement could be reached: (1) Chairman Thurmond's amendments to Title 18 of the United States Code to make it a Federal felony to tamper with food, drugs, or cosmetics with intent to cause death or bodily harm; (2) creation of a new Federal Office of the Director of National and International Drug Operations and Policy to coordinate the activities of various Federal agencies in the war against illegal drugs; (3) amendments to Title 18 of the United States Code making it a Federal offense to kill, assault, or kidnap intelligence officers and employees on account of or in connection with the performance of their duties; (4) criminal and civil forfeiture improvements; (5) amendments to Title 18 to implement serious Federal penalties against career armed robbers and burglars; and (6) the Justice Assistance Act. The last restructures the law enforcement assistance programs to the States and localities, many of which were formerly provided by the more expansive LEAA, places it under the authority of a new Assistant Attorney General, and authorizes a new form of emergency law enforcement assistance.

Committee members facilitated expeditious enactment of other measures. The Anti-Arson Act of 1982 (P.L. 97–298) clarifies Federal jurisdiction over major arson offenses. P.L. 97–351 implements the Convention on the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material and thereby creates Federal offenses relating to the theft and misuse of nuclear materials. The False Identification Crime Control Act, signed into law shortly after the end of the 97th Congress, responds to a Justice Department report calling for strong Federal penalties for the production, transfer, and misuse of false identification documents.

The Committee approved, and the House and Senate passed, the Pretrial Services Act of 1982 (P.L. 97–267). That measure, sponsored by the Ranking Minority Member of the Committee, Senator Joseph R. Biden, Jr., makes pretrial services available in all appropriate judicial districts in a cost-effective manner. Pretrial services assist Federal judges in making bail decisions by providing information about and supervsion of defendants, in the expectation that failures to appear, bail crime and unnecessary detention will ultimately be reduced.

SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES OF THE SUBCOMMITTEES OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY

The nine subcommittees of the Committee on the Judiciary also took action on a significant amount of legislation and conducted a number of legislative, oversight, and investigatory hearings. The following material briefly summarizes the activities and accomplishments of each subcommittee.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON CRIMINAL LAW

Mr. MATHIAS, Chairman

Mr. LAXALT	Mr. BIDEN
Mr. SPECTER	Mr. METZENBAUM
Mr. DOLE	Mr. HEFLIN

Michael R. Klipper, Chief Counsel
Ralph Oman, Staff Director
Kathy J. Zebrowski, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Criminal laws, criminal judicial proceedings; Rules of Criminal Procedure; national penitentiaries; oversight of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice, U.S. Parole Commission, and Bureau of Prisons.

In addition to the various crime measures which were initially considered by the full Committee or on the Senate floor, the Subcommittee on Criminal Law processed several bills. P.L. 97–285, which was sponsored by Chairman Thurmond, makes it a Federal offense to murder, kidnap, or assault certain high Federal government officials, including Cabinet officers, senior White House officials, and Supreme Court justices. The Victim and Witness Protection Act of 1982 (P.L. 97–291), which was primarily sponsored by Senator John Heinz of Pennsylvania and Senator Paul Laxalt of Nevada, creates Federal offenses relating to victim/witness tampering and retaliation, authorizes Federal judges to order restitution to victims of crime, and requires the Attorney General to promulgate guidelines for the fair treatment of crime victims.

In response to the proliferation of counterfeit tapes, records, and films, the Subcommittee and full Committee reported S. 691, the Piracy and Counterfeiting Amendments Act, which was signed into law on May 24, 1982 (P.L. 97–180). The Act, which was sponsored by Chairman Thurmond, would make it a Federal offense to knowingly traffic in counterfeit labels affixed to copyrighted phonorecords or copies of copyrighted audiovisual work. The substantial penalties provided for these new offenses and for criminal offenses involving copyright infringement are designed to deter these profitable activities.

Finally, the Subcommittee held several hearings on and reported the Criminal Justice Construction Reform Act (S. 186), sponsored by Senator Robert Dole of Kansas, which would provide financial assistance to the States for criminal justice construction programs and authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to make interest subsidy payments on criminal justice facility construction bonds. The Subcommittee reported H.R. 3963, which extends the authorization of appropriations for the Contract Services for Drug Dependent Federal Offenders Act of 1978, and S. 2411, the Justice Assistance Act, which are discussed in more detail elsewhere. The Subcommittee also held hearings on false identification, insanity defense, and exclusionary rule legislation.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON REGULATORY REFORM

Mr. LAXALT, Chairman

Mr. DOLE
Mr. MATHIAS
Mr. SIMPSON
Mr. LEAHY
Mr. BYRD

John F. Nash, Jr., Chief Counsel and Staff Director
John Podesta, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Administrative Procedures Act; regulatory procedures; Land and Natural Resources Division of the Department of Justice.

The Subcommittee on Regulatory Reform, chaired by Senator Paul Laxalt of Nevada, was given the responsibility for finding ways to address the virtual explosion of Federal regulation in recent years.

The specific focus of Subcommittee activities during the 97th Congress was securing the passage of S. 1080, the Regulatory Reform Act. This bill made significant modifications in the basic charter of administrative lawmaking and enforcement, the Administrative Procedure Act, which has not been amended since its enactment in 1946. Two primary purposes of S. 1080 included requiring Federal agencies to better analyze their rules to improve their effectiveness and to decrease compliance costs and requiring periodic review of existing regulations.

S. 1080 passed the Senate on March 24, 1982, by the surprisingly unanimous vote of 94 to 0. This overwhelming approval of S. 1080 is, in large part, a reflection of leadership in this area provided by Senator Laxalt. Unfortunately, the House took no action on S. 1080, nor did the House complete action on its own regulatory reform measure, H.R. 746.

Other activities of the Subcommittee included oversight hearings on regulatory reform matters previously enacted into law, such as the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION

Mr. HATCH, Chairman

Mr. THURMOND	Mr. DECONCINI
Mr. GRASSLEY	Mr. LEAHY

Thomas D. Parry, Chief Counsel and Staff Director
Romano Romani, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Constitutional amendments, apportionment of representatives; state and territorial boundary lines; interstate compacts; civil liberties, Privacy Act; Freedom of Information Act.

The Subcommittee on the Constitution conducted nearly fifty days of hearings during the 97th Congress on a variety of issues—some highly controversial—which had not been given serious legislative consideration by the previous committee leadership.

The Subcommittee approved two proposed constitutional amendments—one establishing a balanced budget/tax limitation requirement in the United States Constitution, and the other reversing the Supreme Court's 1973 decision in Roe v. Wade relating to abortion. The former amendment was subsequently approved by a two-thirds margin by the entire Senate in August of 1982, while the latter became the first legislation relating to abortion to be approved by a full committee of Congress when it was favorably reported by the Judiciary Committee in March of 1982. Both measures are likely to be the subject of continued consideration during the 98th Congress.

The Subcommittee also focused on a number of pieces of legislation relating to crime and civil rights. In the area of crime, the Subcommittee (and eventually the full Senate) approved legislation making major reforms in the Federal bail laws, as well as legislation enacting major reforms in the existing Freedom of Information Act. The proposed amendments to the Freedom of Information Act attempted not only to enhance the ability of the FBI to protect information relating to criminal and terrorist activities, but to enact important changes enabling the Federal government to better protect business trade secrets and related information.

In the area of civil rights, the Subcommittee conducted several days of oversight hearings on the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, developed the first full scale hearings on the subject of Affirmative Action, and considered and approved legislation to extend the provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Other issues that were considered at length by the Subcommittee during the 97th Congress included legislation to establish procedures for an Article V constitutional amending convention, legislation to amend section 1983 of Title 42 of the U.S. Code to protect municipal governments from substantial new financial liabilities imposed upon them by recent Supreme Court decisions, legislation to establish new standards for allowing and terminating Federal school busing orders, legislation to establish a commission to commemorate the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution and legislation to limit attorney's fees in certain civil rights cases.

In addition, general oversight hearings were held on the subject of the constitutionality of the Federal government's new racial hiring quotas (P.A.C.E.) and the extent of Congressional authority under Article III of the Constitution to limit and regulate the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

Most of these issues will continue to be the subject of Subcommittee focus during the forthcoming Congress. It is anticipated that a number of additional issues of constitutional importance (such as the proposed Equal Rights Amendment or School Prayer Amendment) will also become the subject of serious attention by the Subcommittee.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON COURTS

Mr. DOLE, Chairman

Mr. THURMOND	Mr. HEFLIN
Mr. SIMPSON	Mr. BAUCUS
Mr. EAST

Richard W. Velde, Chief Counsel and Staff Director
Arthur Briskman, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Federal Courts; civil judicial proceedings, local courts in the territories and possessions; court reform and alignment; Federal Rules of Civil Procedure; judicial disability and tenure; Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts; jurisprudence; Civil Division of the Department of Justice; bankruptcy.

The Subcommittee on Courts, chaired by Senator Robert Dole of Kansas, was charged with the responsibility for overseeing our Federal judicial system and for considering legislation which would ensure its orderly and efficient operation. During the 97th Congress, the Subcommittee considered a number of important bills, including S. 1700, a bill establishing a U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and a U.S. Claims Court, which passed both Houses under the number H.R. 4482 and became P.L. 97–164.

A number of measures in the area of bankruptcy reform, favorably reported by the Subcommittee to the full Committee, were passed by the Senate. S. 863, a bill making technical amendments to the Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978, passed the Senate on July 10, 1981. A bill relating to farm produce storage facilities, the so-called "grain-elevator" bill, passed the Senate twice, the first time of September 22, 1981, as S. 1365 and the second time as S. 3037 on October 1, 1982. A third bankruptcy measure passed by the Senate was S. 2297, a bill to improve protections for shopping centers and tenants under the Bankruptcy Code. A final bankruptcy bill favorably reported by both the Subcommittee and full Committee, but not considered by the Senate, was S. 2000, a bill to establish an improved basis for providing relief under Chapter 7 and for other purposes. None of these bills or any companion measures, with the exception of the technical amendments bill, was enacted by the House.

In the area of court reform, in addition to S. 1700 mentioned earlier, the Subcommittee approved S. 537, a bill creating a State Justice Institute to aid State and local government in strengthening and improving their judicial systems. S. 537 passed the Senate on August 10, 1982. The Subcommittee and full Committee also approved an original subcommittee bill, the Omnibus Judgeship Act, which authorized 31 additional district court judgeships and 14 additional circuit court positions.

Finally, the Subcommittee and full Committee devoted significant time and effort to structuring a legislative response to the June 28 decision of the Supreme Court in Northern Pipeline Construction Co. v. Marathon Pipe Line Co. The Court held, in that case, that the judicial power given to bankruptcy judges by the 1978 Bankruptcy Reform Act was unconstitutional because those judges lacked the protections afforded by Article III of the Constitution. The lack of a consensus regarding the content of such legislation, as well as the press of other legislative items, precluded action by either house during the last Congress. Passage of such legislation, therefore, remains a top priority of the Committee for action early in the 98th Congress.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON IMMIGRATION AND REFUGEE POLICY

Mr. SIMPSON, Chairman

Mr. THURMOND	Mr. KENNEDY
Mr. GRASSLEY	Mr. DECONCINI

Richard W. Day, Chief Counsel and Staff Director
Jerry Tinker, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Immigration and naturalization; refugees and refugee policy; oversight of Immigration and Naturalization Service and Board of Immigration Appeals.

Although the House failed to pass immigration reform legislation before the end of the 97th Congress, the Senate, on April 17, 1982, by a vote of 80 to 19 passed S. 2222. This result was achieved in large part by the untiring efforts of Senator Alan K. Simpson of Wyoming, Chairman of the Subcommittee on Immigration and Refugee Policy. S. 2222: (1) places a 425,000 cap on annual immigration; (2) imposes sanctions on employers who knowingly hire or employ illegal aliens; (3) provides "amnesty" for illegal aliens who have been in the country since a date prior to January 1, 1977, and temporary residence for those who entered after that time and prior to January 1, 1982, with restrictions on welfare eligibility for both groups; (4) streamlines refugee and asylum procedures to address Cuban/Haitian entry problems; (5) expands the temporary worker program to allow foreign workers to work in the United States for eight months; and (6) establishes a pilot visa program for five nations.

Two less comprehensive bills reported by the Committee were enacted into law. P.L. 97–359 amends the Immigration and Nationality Act to provide preferential treatment in the admission of certain children of Armed Forces personnel. Many Amer-Asian children have already been admitted into the United States pursuant to the provisions of that Act. P.L. 97–278 amended the Immigration and Nationality Act to extend the authorization for refugee assistance for three years and to make certain improvements in the operation of that program.

In addition to the various public laws enacted, the Committee reported over 40 bills for private immigration relief which were subsequently signed into law.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON SEPARATION OF POWERS

Mr. EAST, Chairman

Mr. HATCH	Mr. BAUCUS
Mr. DENTON	Mr. HEFLIN

James McClellan, Chief Counsel and Staff Director
Ken Kay, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Separation of powers between the three branches of the Federal Government; division of powers between the Federal and State governments; government information except Privacy Act and FOIA.

The Subcommittee on Separation of Powers was reconstituted in the 97th Congress to consider the fundamental issues involved in the separation of power between the three branches of the Federal government and the division of power between the Federal government and the States. To that end, the Subcommittee has conducted various oversight hearings and hearings on legislation relating to the constitutional implications of certain foreign policy matters and the constitutional limits imposed on the Federal judiciary and on court orders in such areas as forced busing and the right to life.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON AGENCY ADMINISTRATION

Mr. GRASSLEY, Chairman

Mr. LAXALT	Mr. METZENBAUM
Mr. SPECTER	Mr. BAUCUS

John Maxwell, Chief Counsel and Staff Director
Margery Baker, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Legislative veto; Congressional or judicial appeal of Federal agency determinations or procedures; consumer interest in Federal agency and Executive Branch actions; claims.

In the 97th Congress the Subcommittee was referred 64 Senate bills and 14 House bills. It favorably reported 18 of those bills.

During the 97th Congress the Subcommittee held the following hearings:

April 23, 1981	Legislative Veto.
May 15, 1981	"Bumpers Amendment".
July 23, 1981	National Guard Tort Claims.
October 19, 1981	Military Claims.
November 13 and 16, 1981, and March 31, 1982	Federal Employee Tort Liability.
April 14, 1982	"Feres" Doctrine.
September 23, 1982	Federal Jury Improvement Act.
September 30, 1982, and December 2, 1982	Indemnification of Government Contractors.
December 9, 1982	Equal Access to Justice Act.

The Subcommittee held a joint hearing with the Subcommittee on Courts on February 25, 1982, on the subject of annual authorization of the Federal court system. Additionally, the Subcommittee held a joint hearing with the Labor Committee on March 12, 1982, on the subject of compensation for injury resulting from radiation exposure.

The Subcommittee's legislative agenda for the 97th Congress has seen the following degree of success:

Legislative Veto	Passed Senate as an amendment to S. 1080.
"Bumpers" Amendment	Passed Senate as an amendment to S. 1080.
Intervener Funding	Passed Senate as an amendment to S. 1080.
Federal Employee Tort Liability	Reported from Subcommittee.
Excess Federal Property for State Corrections	Passed Senate.
Military Claims Act Amendments	P.L. 97-226.
National Guard Tort Liability	P.L. 97-124.
Federal Jury Improvements Act	P.L. 97-463.
10 Private Relief Bills.

Should the Subcommittee's jurisdiction remain the same during the 98th Congress, the primary focus of the Subcommittee's agenda will remain centered on the regulatory issues of legislative veto, Bumpers Amendment, and intervener funding. Federal Employee Tort Liability legislation (S. 1775) will remain a high priority as will the processing of the various private relief claim bills.

In light of the upcoming expiration of the Equal Access to Justice Act, the Subcommittee will consider its extension with appropriate amendments. We will also continue our oversight of the Federal Tort Claims Act as it affects the indemnification of government contractors.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON SECURITY AND TERRORISM

Mr. DENTON, Chairman

Jurisdiction: Terrorism, espionage, and counterfeiting; oversight of FBI and DEA; authorization and budget of FBI and DEA; oversight of legal attaches (Legats).

During the 97th Congress, the Committee through its Subcommittee on Security and Terrorism held a total of twenty-seven hearings—five dealing with authorization/oversight of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), four legislative hearings (one of which was held in conjunction with an oversight hearing) and nineteen hearings dealing with issues of national security.

At the outset of the session, the Subcommittee requested the General Accounting Office to undertake a study of the responsibilities of the various government agencies with respect to domestic terrorism. The study which will be completed in the early spring of 1983 will analyze the responsibilities, interrelationships and resources of these agencies.

After the FBI and the DEA Authorization/Oversight hearings at the beginning of the first session, the Subcommittee undertook an extensive inquiry into the origins, directions and support of terrorism. The first, and four subsequent hearings held during the first session, demonstrated conclusively the linkages and interrelationships that exist between the international terrorist groups, and further showed the complicity of the Soviet Union and its proxy states with terrorist organizations and so-called "national liberation movements" which use terrorism as a tool to accomplish their political objectives.

A case study was made of the Turkish experience with terrorism, domestically and internationally, and two days of hearings were devoted to a study of Russian political history, demonstrating the origins of the use of terrorism as a tool to further Soviet foreign policy objectives. Dr. James Billington, of the Woodrow Wilson Center for Scholars, testified that the word "terrorist" was first adopted as a badge of pride by a significant revolutionary group in Russia just before they launched the most spectacular program of systematic political assassination in the 19th century.

During the course of the hearings held on June 12, 25, and 26, 1981, the Subcommittee received testimony from three different witnesses showing the Bulgarian/Soviet KGB connection with Mehmet Ali Agca, the Turkish national who attempted to assassinate the Pope. This information was made public within a month of the attempt, and approximately 18 months before the recent television documentary and magazine articles which purport to expose the complicity of the Bulgarians and the Soviets.

The Subcommittee also held a hearing concerning the disposition of 20,000 cubic feet of Federal government personnel security investigative files, during which the presently ineffective Federal personnel security program, under E.O. 10450, was highlighted. Also, as a result of the Committee's interest and efforts, the destruction of a portion of those files was averted when the Archivist subsequently determined that they indeed had historical value. The Subcommittee is continuing its oversight to insure the proper disposition of the remaining 19,000 cubic feet of records.

The Subcommittee held hearings on S. 391, the Intelligence Identities Protection Act, and was instrumental in its enactment, during the Second Session of the 97th Congress, in the form of H.R. 4, the House version of the Senate bill. This law, to be codified in 50 United States Code Section 421, in part, makes it a crime to disclose the identity of U.S. intelligence agents, even though the information may have derived from public sources.

The Committee, through its Subcommittee on Security and Terrorism, began the Second Session of the 97th Congress with two FBI oversight hearings, one open and one closed. These hearings dealt with the problems of domestic security and focused on the inability of the FBI to gather and disseminate information on domestic groups or individuals which advocate violence and subversion. It appears that the Attorney General's Guidelines for Domestic Security Investigations ("Levi Guidelines") contribute to the deplorable condition of the FBI's domestic intelligence gathering capacity.

Thereafter, in a series of four hearings, the Subcommittee inquired extensively into the ripple effect of the "Levi Guidelines" on agencies such as the U.S. Secret Service and the U.S. Park Police, as well as on state and municipal law enforcement agencies. From the evidence, it is clear that a serious condition exists which must be remedied, and the Subcommittee will press to bring about necessary change. The Justice Department and the FBI have agreed that the guidelines need modification and have undertaken the task of reviewing and modifying them. The Subcommittee will follow the modification process closely and will be afforded the opportunity to comment on suggested changes.

Evidence was developed at the "Levi Guidelines" hearings which underscored the urgency attached to amending the Freedom of Information Act, the Privacy Act, and the Federal Tort Claims Act if meaningful intelligence gathering operations are to be resumed.

As a result of the DEA oversight hearing and a series of four hearings concerning the role of Cuba in international terrorism and subversion, the Subcommittee focused the attention of the DEA and other government agencies on the Cuban government's role in facilitating international drug traffic, especially with regard to its role in allowing Cuban waters to be used for the off-loading of drugs intended for U.S. markets. These hearings further documented the Cuban efforts through its intelligence service, the DGI, to infiltrate and place agents in South Florida and other parts of the U.S.; Cuba's involvement by training, support and propaganda with terrorism in Latin America, in Puerto Rico and in the Miami area; and the firm link between Cuba and the Soviet Union in those efforts, as shown by the Soviet KGB's complete control of the Cuban DGI.

Through a series of five hearings in March 1982, the Subcommittee, on behalf of the Committee, revealed and documented through the testimony of former members of the African National Congress (ANC) and the South West Africa People's Organization (SWAPO), the extent to which such "national liberation movements" have been subverted and utilized by the Soviet Union, Cuba, and the German Democratic Republic to advance Soviet foreign policy objectives. The Subcommittee was also able to document the terrorist nature of both the ANC and SWAPO; the indiscriminate use of terror against the civilian populations and their own members who questioned these and other practices; and the training provided for such terrorist acts in the Soviet Union, the GDR, and Angola.

A successful plot hatched at the UN by SWAPO President, Sam Nujoma, to assassinate two political rivals in Namibia was uncovered during the course of these hearings. The details of the plot and supporting documents were referred by the Subcommittee to the Justice Department and the Attorney General of New York for investigation.

On December 16, 1982, Bartholomew Hlapane, a former member of the African National Congress and the South African Communist Party, was murdered in his home, in Soweto, by assassins using AK–47 assault rifles. Mr. Hlapane's wife died a few hours later. Based on the modus operandi and the choice of weapon, it appears that the killers were ANC terrorists.

On March 25, 1982, Mr. Hlapane courageously testified before the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Security and Terrorism, concerning the clandestine role of the South African Communist Party in the ANC and in the formation of the ANC's terrorist wing, Umkonto We Sizwe, "The Spear of the Nation." Prior to giving that testimony, Mr. Hlapane met with the other former members of the ANC and the South West Africa People's Organization (SWAPO) to discuss the possible consequences of their testimony. Mr. Hlapane and the other witnesses, knowing they would be marked for assassination, each made an individual decision to tell their story and to expose the role of the Soviets and other Communist countries in subverting and exploiting the ANC and SWAPO to accomplish their own foreign policy objectives. These brave witnesses felt that someone had to tell the world the truth with respect to what is really happening in Southern Africa. They stated that if they did not do it, the real story would probably never be told.

The Subcommittee also held hearings on the following legislation: S. 2255, the Anti-Terrorism and Foreign Mercenary Act; S. 1963, a bill to transfer responsibility for receiving notification of non-diplomatic agents of foreign governments from the State Department to the Justice Department; S. 2320, a bill to enhance criminal forfeiture of proceeds in drug and racketeering related cases; and S. 1959, a bill to require nationals of communist countries to register with the Attorney General prior to engaging in certain activities involving members of Congress and Congressional employees.

On December 19, 1982, S. 1963 passed the Senate by unanimous consent as a freestanding bill and also as an amendment to H.R. 7154, a bill to relieve the U.S. Marshal Service from serving civil process.

The hearing on S. 1959 demonstrated the scope of unrestricted and largely unmonitored communist bloc activities on the Hill. Moreover, the ongoing effort of Communist bloc infiltrators to cultivate agents of influence is an alarming situation which S. 1959 seeks to address. This is of special concern in light of the problems confronting the FBI, with its limited resources, in properly monitoring such activity. The Subcommittee will continue to look for legislative, as well as administrative, remedies for this grave situation.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON JUVENILE JUSTICE

Mr. SPECTER, Chairman

Mr. METZENBAUM
Mr. KENNEDY

Bruce A. Cohen, Chief Counsel
Margery Baker, Minority Counsel

Jurisdiction: Juvenile Justice; Youthful Offenders Act; oversight of the Office of Justice Assistance, Research, and Statistics.

In addition to extensive oversight activities with respect to matters within its jurisdiction, including the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, and activities relating to Federal funding for juvenile justice programs, the Subcommittee on Juvenile Justice considered P.L. 97-164, the Missing Children Act. In response to concerns expressed by various parent groups for the need for Federal involvement in the location of missing children, the Act authorizes the Attorney General to exchange information with State and local officials to assist in the identification of deceased individuals and in the location of missing children. In addition to H.R. 3963, the Subcommittee also reported two bills sponsored by its chairman, Senator Arlen Specter of Pennsylvania, the Career Criminal Act (S. 1688) and the Justice Assistance Act (S. 2411), which passed the Senate as separate legislation and as part of H.R. 3963.
